

THE "DEAD" AT BLOODY ANGLE

"High tide" of the battle of Gettysburg as reproduced by the marines recently, and showing where so many heroes of the civil war fell. The marines were allowed to fall "dead" wherever the inclination struck them.

©Harris & Ewing.

First photo of the entry of Polish troops into Upper Silesia, carrying out terms of the plebiscite. Kattowitz, center of the mining district, was taken over by the soldiers shown in the photograph.

© P. & A. Photos.

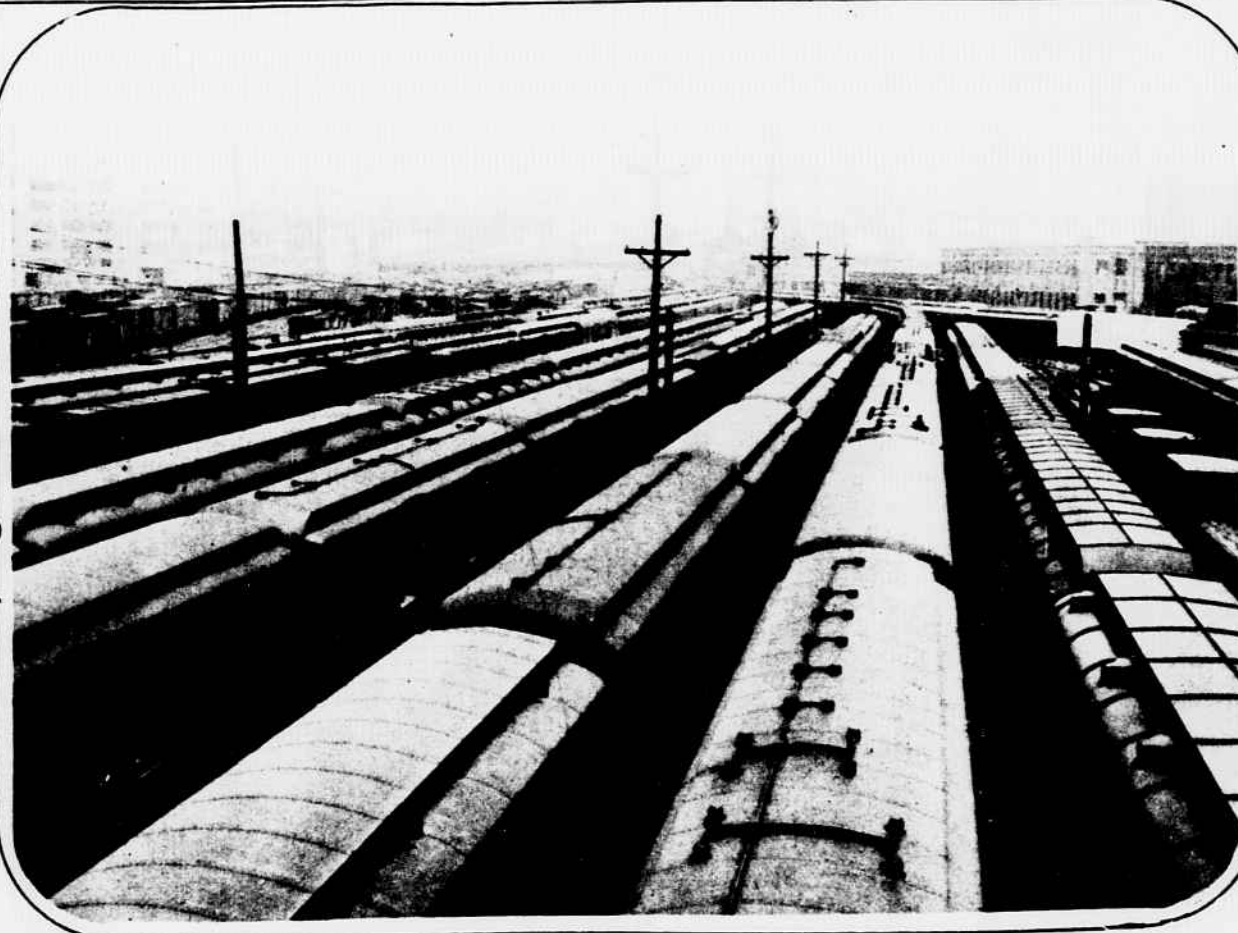

The "Tent White House" at Gettysburg, occupied by the President and Mrs. Harding during their recent stay at Gettysburg. In the photo are the Governor and Mrs. Trinkle of Virginia, President Harding, Gen. Dawes, Senator McCormick and Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt (with back turned to camera).

©Harris & Ewing.

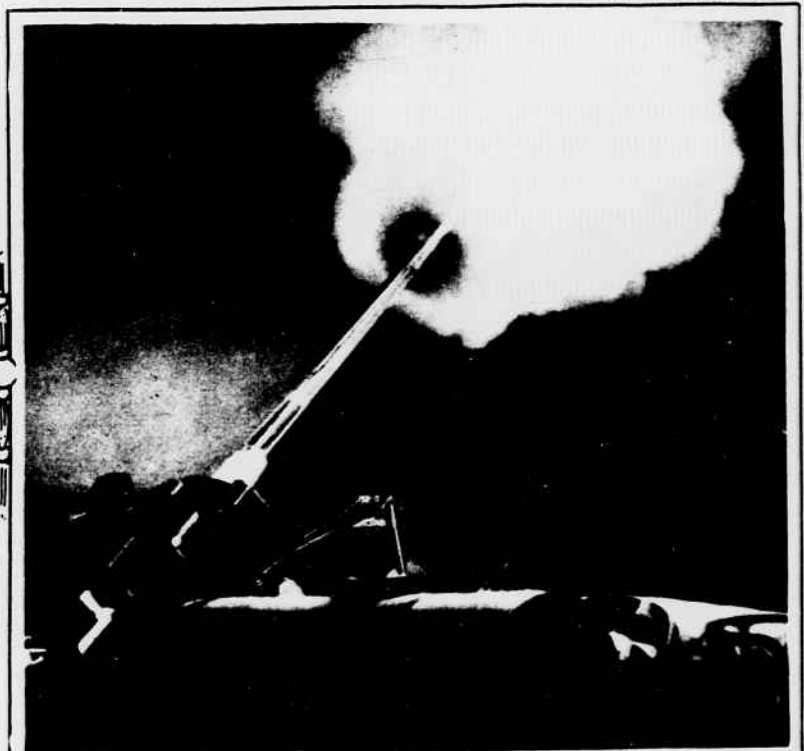

The "old jimmy pipe" made its appearance at the Gettysburg maneuvers. The smokers are Senator Pepper of Pennsylvania and Gen. Dawes.

©Harris & Ewing.

How the railroad strike ties up trains in the Sunnyside yard of the Long Island railroad, where 12,000 men walked out.

©P. & A. Photos.

Firing a three-inch anti-aircraft gun at night during the Gettysburg sham battle.

©Harris & Ewing.